Cannery Pier Hotel & Spa

cannerypierhotel.com // Astoria, Oregon

Deep in the heart of the mighty Columbia River is Astoria's Cannery Pier Hotel & Spa. The boutique property provides a front-row view of the world's largest cargo ships and pilot boats—almost close enough to touch and feel the ripples of the river. The hotel sits atop a 123-year-old durable pier that was once the Union Fisherman's Cooperative Packing Company, giving meeting attendees an authentic river experience that is distinctively Astoria.

"Cannery Pier Hotel & Spa is the perfect backdrop to hold business meetings and retreats in our classic meeting rooms, and where every guest room has an amazing view of the Columbia River to stimulate creativity and soothe daily stresses. The difference is the team's attention to detail to personalize services for each event. Planning a business meeting or event in Astoria is ideal, because it's a unique little town with so much charm and provides numerous dining options and a host of arts and culture activities year-round," says Linh DePledge, director of sales and marketing for Cannery Pier.
